

Meet Our OHSU Hillsboro Family Medicine Residents – the Class of 2024!

"I am really enjoying the opportunity to get to know the amazing staff we work with! Everyone is so kind and supportive and I've had so many people go out of their way to help me out during these first few weeks. It has also been really nice to get to enjoy some very scenic drives through the beautiful countryside on my way to and from the hospital."

-Ally Bray, MD, PGY 1

"HMC has been such a great experience so far! The hospital is incredibly friendly. Consultants have stopped to ask how the transition is going. I've worked closely with such supportive attendings. Hillsboro itself is a really diverse, interesting place. It's part of the Portland Metro, but also its own community with a bit of a small-town feel. I am honored to serve this community and work with such amazing colleagues."

-Aaron Chambers, MD, PGY 1

"My first two months in Hillsboro has been filled with hikes at Forest Park and trips to the bank of the Columbia River, where we swim within sight of snowcapped mountains. During the weekend, we enjoy taking the train into Portland for the PSU Farmers Market and on Sunday afternoon, the Hillsboro Farmers Market is just a short walk away."

-Logan Ellis, DO, PGY 1

"The thing I enjoy most about the Hillsboro FM program is the people. Everyone is genuine and kind and they care about the community that we serve and the community we are building as a new residency program. I am especially in awe of their dedication to our growth as physicians and more importantly to our growth as individuals."

-Dione Fernandez, DO, PGY 1

"I really enjoy the small-town feel of Hillsboro. There are many local shops and awesome spots to eat all around the city. The faculty and staff at HMC Family Med are incredibly supportive, welcoming, and are truly there to help you become the best version of yourself as a new doctor."

-Esteban Garza, MD, PGY 1

"The Hillsboro community and medical center staff have been extremely welcoming to all the new residents. I truly feel that they want us to succeed and thrive! I have really enjoyed getting to know my fellow co-residents as well. Over the past month and a half, we have already formed a strong bond with common interests and needing to rely on each other through different patient care and testing scenarios. I have also been able to work with faculty in both clinic and inpatient settings. I am incredibly thankful for their passion to teach, and it shows with all of our encounters. They have taken time to learn about our individual career desires and are tailoring each day toward achieving these goals."

-Justine Lawson, DO, PGY 1

"I am enjoying the people that I get to work with every day. My co-residents, faculty, staff, everyone has been amazingly supportive and it's evident that everyone is invested in our learning."

-Alyssa Morrow, DO, PGY 1

"I'm really excited about the program's active engagement with the community. I also appreciate how supportive the administration and faculty have been of me and my family with the recent birth of my son, Luca!"

-Justin Santos, MD, PGY 1
